TE ORIENTA

It's time to decide which career your students should pursue.

Te Orienta supports the vocational guidance process with a test based on the brain preference model, allowing you to accurately identify, with 95% certainty, each student's natural strengths and competencies.

FOR BEYOND

TE ORIENTA

Our Purpose

We are a company with over 14 years of experience, dedicated to enhancing the abilities of young people by identifying the Natural Strengths and Competencies present in each individual and proposing development and strengthening plans.

We have an interdisciplinary team and have invested in innovative methodologies and technologies to support and assist in the Vocational Guidance Process, making each student's expectations in professional careers and personal interests a reality.

Our Methodology

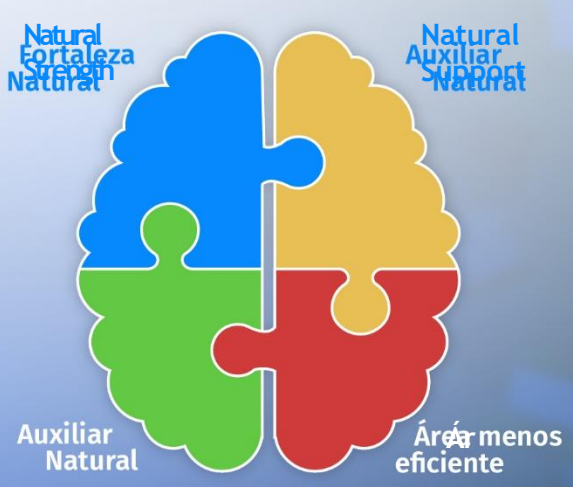

Thinking Styles Methodology.
What does it involve?

It is a methodology supported by neurophysiological findings related to the structure of the two cerebral hemispheres (Left and Right). In addition, recent findings suggest the existence of four brain areas, each with its own particularities and specializations, that propose a different way of SEEING and RELATING to the world.

People are genetically determined with 'ONE' dominant thinking style, which we call NEUROSTRENGTH. By discovering it, we can unlock our full potential.

We have helped many young people identify their natural talents, enabling them to be happy and successful.

Future competencies

UNESCO has identified essential and predictive skills that new generations need to develop. For each of these skills, you will see the results on a color scale, which will allow you to understand the level of maturity they have reached. Additionally, you will find the challenges or tasks that will help you consolidate and develop these skills.

Te Orienta 11 enables young people aged 16 to 18 to discover their natural strengths, current competencies, interests, and motivators. It allows them to explore different career paths and the universities that offer them, ultimately helping them make the most important decision of their lives.

With the test results, you will be able to determine:

Identify your natural strengths, current skills, less efficient style, and cutting-edge competencies needed for the new generations.

Discover the professional careers that best match your profile and explore the universities that offer them.

Gain first-hand insights from our mentors, including experiences and advice to help you make the best decision.

Let's understand the natural abilities of our children and students and contribute to making the right decisions so they can be happy and successful..
