TE ORIENTA

Our Purpose

We are a company with 13 years of experience, dedicated to enhancing human talent by identifying each individual's natural strengths and competencies, ensuring reliable and successful work.

We have an interdisciplinary team that has invested in innovative methodologies and technologies to support and guide professional and vocational orientation, helping to realize each person's expectations in various professional and work environments.

Our Methodology

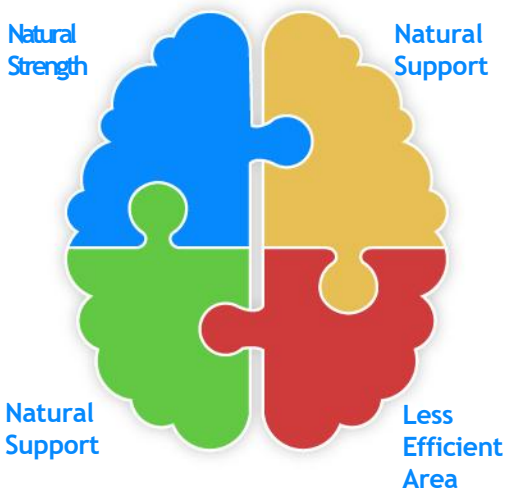

Thinking Styles Methodology. What does it involve?

It is a methodology based on neurophysiological findings, tracing back to Plato, who was the first to suggest that there are two distinct aspects of the human mind, referring to the right hemisphere and the left hemisphere. Recent findings describe four brain regions, each with distinct characteristics and specialties, which suggest unique ways of SEEING and INTERACTING with the world.

People are genetically predisposed to have a dominant 'thinking style,' which we refer to as NEUROSTRENGTH. Identifying this can help unlock their full potential.

We have helped many young people identify their natural talents, enabling them to be happy and successful.
